

UNIT 7

THE GROUP PROJECT

Extra time is often needed to support young people to research the group project. It may be useful to add an additional session to focus on research for the project and it is also useful if you can get away from the usual training environment, perhaps to an internet café or similar venue.

Otherwise, the planning and delivery of the group project should be run as normal.